PORT OF AMOY.
NOTICE TO MARINERS.
THE BUOYS marking the dangers in the Harbour of Amoy have been painted according to the Rule in use by the British Admiralty and Trinity Board, viz.: to mark the Starboard side of Channels entering by Black or Red Buoys only. The Port side of Channels entering by Black or Red Buoys Chequered or Vertically striped with White, and Middle Grounds by horizontally striped Buoys.

KEILET SPIT—North end formerly marked by a Red Buoy, is now marked by a Red Buoy.

COKE'S ROCKS—formerly marked by a Red Buoy are now marked by a vertically striped Red and White Buoy. This Buoy has been placed about 20 fathoms to the E. S. E. of the shoalest patch, in order to guard Vessels against Ledges of Rock, with 15 feet water, found to exist in that direction, and 15 to 16 fathoms close to the Port, and when entering the Harbour. The shoalest patch or pinnacle of the Coke's Rocks, has a floating Beacon on it until further notice.

NEW ROCK—in North part of Harbour, and Brown's Rock are marked by horizontally striped Buoys.

License any of these Buoys are lost or moved, the position will be soon as possible be marked by a Flag boat or floating Beacon.

stated that he gave his opinion under instructions from his superiors, so that the decision could be taken as that of the highest U. S. authorities in China. The knowledge that the tenor of his foolish, and most injurious notification has been indignantly repudiated by the representatives of the United States, and has been directly contradicted in express terms by even a Chinese magistrate, may have some influence in causing Mr. Medhurst to regret that he was made the cat-paw of an imbecile chief. Acting as he did, under instructions but small blame can be attached to Mr. Medhurst; but it is melancholy to find a really able man, who knows China well, compelled to make himself the object of general indignation and derision by an official assumption of ignorance upon points regarding which the veriest tyro in China could have given more accurate information.

We publish in another column a translation of the new coolie-trade regulations promulgated by Vice-Admiral De Souza, the new Governor of Macao. Ready as we are to give him every credit, we must confess that a first reading causes the impression that they have been devised as much in favor of the foreign agent as in favor of the Chinese emigrants, while there can be no one disputing the fact that any such regulation must be, like those of our emigration board at home, exclusively in favor of the emigrant. That such an idea will cause a howl of derision on the part of the dealers in copper colored wares we are fully sensible and we can readily believe that Admiral De Souza has not yet been able to seize the real facts which are termed the "abuses" of the trade. He seems to be in earnest, but we must warn him that no regulations which commence to take effect after the arrival of the coolie at Macao will repress the illicit practices complained of. We will deal more exhaustively with the regulations in question on another occasion.

LOCAL.

ATTENTION! SILENCE.

Some little excitement was occasioned to-day at the Central Police Station by an attempt to commit suicide on the part of one of the Sikh police force. It appears that Sikh 414 (Nanak) has been on the report for neglect of duty for the last two days, and was placed in one of the cells to-day for that offence. He seems to have taken the punishment very much to heart, for about five minutes after he was locked up, he deliberately affixed his unwhipped fustian to the cell bars, got his fingers fired a noise, jumped off the ledge; and the result was a lightning of the throat, a gurgling noise, and a considerable air. Assistance was soon attracted to the spot, and the poor Punjabi was liberated from his awkward position, but not before he was almost insensible. No. 414, however, recovered shortly after, and we fancy has had quite enough for the present of such a misadventure of the kind of which his race are as a rule so proud.

Mr. Thompson has, we understand, taken several views of the Dragon feast procession which will doubtless be interesting to students of Chinese habits and customs. Apropos of this, we may observe that a considerable diversity of opinion exists as to the license granted to the Chinese to celebrate this feast. The religious element may be put out of the question, altogether; as there is not the faintest trace of that feeling connected with the observance. But as a matter of public convenience we would suggest that the gongs be omitted on future occasions. Europeans do not object to the Chinese having a procession or to their even indulging in bagpipes, but the gong is a little too much for the most placid to bear for three days without remembrance.

The Portuguese Ministry have tendered their resignation, which has been accepted by the King. Pall Mall Gazette, July 18. [This is the Ministry of which Senhor Amaral was a Minister, and it will be remembered that Senhor Horta said that the resignation of the Governorship of Macao was occasioned by his desire to save the political honour of the country, neither the resignation of the Ministry—who never replied to Lord Stanley's representations about certain "grave and notorious" abuses at Macao—nor that of Governor Horta, has occasioned the political change in Lisbon, still it is curious that the events should be so nearly simultaneous.—Ed. C. M.]

TO-DAY'S POLICE.

Mr. John Green alias Gray was charged with having attempted to obtain money under false pretences, in a most peculiar manner. It appears that the prisoner, who is described as a barber unemployed, is not a stranger to the criminal's dock, and would not seem to be an adept in things "sharp." From the evidence of Chun Achoy (of the Kwong Fong Kong) a story was made known worthy of attention, as embodying a charge against the prisoner of a combination of crimes. Chun Achoy has been in Australia, and has a shop now in Sydney, where he became acquainted with a Mr. Kall; from which gentleman he had postal advice some time since of the expected arrival of the barque called the Australoid, and of the fact that Captain Barnack would come and see him. On 24th ulto, prisoner represented that he was the said Captain Barnack, and said: "How are you? I arrived yesterday, and would have called yesterday, but it was Sunday, so have come this morning." Prisoner said he belonged to the ship Australoid, and that his name was Barnack; upon which Achoy at once invited the quasi-captain to breakfast. The Green alias Gray shipmaster, however, declined this invitation, but asked for the loan of 50¢, which he would pay next day; he also said the owner of the ship had sent Achoy some presents, which he (Gray) would take him off to see next day. The money was paid, and nothing more of the Australoid or her captain was seen or heard of until September 3rd, when the real Capt. Barnack appeared, saying that his vessel had arrived. In the afternoon, Achoy met prisoner on the Quay, when a little specu-took place. Achoy seized Green, saying "You cheated me?" prisoner produced a paper, saying it was a 500 note, and on being released, prisoner took to his heels. This document which Green attempted to pass upon the Chinaman was nothing less than one of Hayer & Howell's labels for a bale of goods, bearing the words "Gentian China Lastering, Yile." Upon which appears the arms of England, and of the City of London, with the national shield. Prisoner was caught, however, by an Indian tamponize with the now infamous Chinaman; but Chun Achoy refused some "gin-gerbard" jewellery offered in order to settle the matter. Prisoner endeavored to set up a plea to the effect that he was "three-parts drunk"; but Achoy utterly denied this version of the affair. Mr. Douglas, of the Gaol, next gave an account of the prisoner's character, which began by proving that he was not Barnack but Green, Gray or Martin, or all three. He was tried at the Supreme Court on 20th August 1868 for robbery of a cash-box from the ship Fair light, on board of which he had acted as steward, and was sentenced to 18 months' hard labor. Having behaved himself fairly, he was liberated after a time, on condition that he should remain on a certain warrant, having been sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment for larceny. He was last discharged from Gaol on 24th ulto; his conduct was very bad during last term of imprisonment; he was the worst-behaved man whom Mr. Douglas had ever met during his experience as a prison-officer, and there was no vice of which a man could be guilty that prisoner had not been guilty of.—This notable specimen of the criminal abroad was remanded till Tuesday next, at noon.

A person named Gardiner, or Fuller, who is otherwise known as a vintner and Company, was apprehended this morning on board the mail steamer Orissa on the eve of the mail's departure, at the instance of Messrs. Lane, Crawford & Co. and on the warrant of Mr. Goodlake, police magistrate. The warrant purports to inform the magistrate that defendant (Gardiner & Co. alias Fuller), "on a day in August last, did obtain sugar to the amount of $500 with intent to defraud the above-named." Mr. Sharp appeared in behalf of Gardiner & Co. (defendant), and Mr. Caldwell appeared to prosecute. The latter gentleman asked that the case should be remanded until the witnesses were got together, and stated that he had two or three charges against the prisoner. Mr. Sharp asked for bail; he was instructed his client had goods in Messrs. Lane, Crawford & Co. store sufficient to cover the amount here mentioned; at least complainants had 225 cases of wine in Messrs. L. & C.'s store. Mr. Caldwell remarked that such security was the case, but that the wine was worth only ten cents a case. Inspector Burns proposed to having apprehended the prisoner on board the mail steamer, and stated that he was sure he could procure evidence in support of the charge; when prisoner was accordingly remanded until to-morrow at 11 A.M.

Lieutenant Coates, R.N., charged his chair-coolies with refusal of duty, in that they struck work this forenoon because their pay had been "cut" 5¢. This matter, however, was by consent postponed because the said chair-coolies had refused to go when they were wanted during last month, saying (on being sent for) that they had just begun dinner. As their master did not wish to press the charge, they were fined 50¢ and told they had to obey their master so long as they remained in his employ; they could leave on a month's notice, but must do as they were ordered to do till then.

Mr. C. F. Seaburg, acting manager of the Hongkong Hotel, had charged a coolie with having stolen eight and a half bottles of Chinese Aikins, the process of seizure established by previous charges being completed before issue of the license.

The caution-money for brokers is raised to the amount of $500.

Mr. XII.—The Emigration establishment shall keep suspended at the doors, and in all the rooms within copies, in perfectly legible characters of the contracts offered by the agents, respectively, to the emigrants.

Mr. XIV.—Notice shall be given to the Superintendent as soon as the Emigration Agent has collected emigrants, having made up their minds to sign the contract, in numbers sufficient to complete the despatch of the vessel in which it is intended to send them on.

Mr. XV.—The Emigration Superintendent shall be established in a building of sufficient capacity to contain, during the period of four years, the entire number of emigrants to be despatched in each vessel.

Mr. XVI.—Emigrants who are ready to embark, according to the notice given by the Agent, shall be taken to the Superintendent, where, in open Court, they shall be examined by the Superintendent, and the contract shall be read and explained to them, a printed copy of the contract being delivered to each individual.

Mr. XVII.—Such Chinese as, on being examined, declare their readiness to emigrate and their acceptance of the terms of the contract, shall be collected in the lodgings provided for the purpose in the Superintendent's office, and during the period of four days, until the signing of the contracts, they shall not be allowed to communicate with the agents, managers, or contractors, or with the brokers.

Mr. XVIII.—On the following day the emigrants shall publicly and at the hour appointed for the purpose be summoned to the office of the Superintendent, and there, in the presence of the persons mentioned in the paragraph annexed to Art. 16, the contract shall again be read over to them, and the same questions shall be put to them, all who reply in the affirmative being thereupon sent back to their lodging place.

Mr. XIX.—The same proceeding shall be repeated on the third day.

Mr. XX.—On the 4th day, in a judicial public manner, after a fresh reading and examination, the contract shall be signed by each emigrant in turn. The contract shall be in Chinese, and shall contain the following clauses:—

1.—It shall be lawful for the Government to fix the number of establishments allowed to each agent, in proportion to the number of emigrants he intends contracting with.

2.—The establishments must fulfil the conditions as to space and ventilation they may be fixed upon, and, in addition, must provide separate lodgings for the women and families who also intend to emigrate.

3.—The establishments shall pay such a sum by way of police-rate, as may be determined.

Art. II.—1. shall not be permitted to collect emigrants in "con-tau" * or in any non-licensed building by way of establishment.

1.—On detection of any case of infraction of this article, all persons interested in or responsible for the same shall be punishable with a fine of from $100 to $500, according to the circumstances, and in case of a repetition of the offence, with from three to six months' imprisonment, with corresponding fine.

Art. III.—Emigration Agents shall not accompany their applications for a license to open establishments with a list of the names of the persons in charge of the said establishments, and with a copy of the agreements they have made with the said persons in charge.

Art. IV.—The persons in charge of the establishments shall deposit at the Superintendent's office a caution money to the amount of $1,000, and they shall be responsible for all offences or abuses practised in the said establishments.

1.—For a breach of the regulations the persons in charge shall be liable to a fine graduated according to the circumstances of the case from $50 up to the total amount of the caution money.

Art. V.—Every manager of an establishment, or contractor, or any broker, who being bound by any contract shall execute another contract with another Agent, shall be liable to a fine of from $100 to $500.

Art. VI.—Every manager or contractor, or any broker, who shall be wilfully untrue or receive emigrants who have been arranged for (against) by the brokers, employees, or contractors of other agents, shall be liable to a fine of from $50 to $200.

Art. VII.—Every broker who, having entered into an engagement with an Agent, an employer, or a contractor from whom he has received money, shall offer to another person the emigrants or emigrants he may have obtained, shall be liable to a fine of from $50 to $200.

Art. VIII.—Any emigration agent proved guilty of connivance in a violation of Art. VI and VII, shall be liable to the penalty of closing the establishments for which he holds a license.

Art. IX.—Without prejudice to the responsibility of the agents and managers or contractors, the persons employed in the establishments shall be held mutually responsible for infractions of the internal regulations of the said establishments.

1.—The managers of Establishments shall be answerable, whenever necessary, for the fines imposed upon any of the employees.

Art. X.—It shall be the duty of the Police and the Superintendent of Chinese Emigration to see that the doors of the Establishments, or licensed Emigration Establishments, remain open and that the emigrants enjoy free access between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.

1.—Any police-constable reporting any infringement of the emigration regulations, on the same being proved, shall receive as reward the fourth part of the fine incurred by the offender.

2.—A like reward shall be paid to any citizen who shall give information of any infringement of the rules, immediately on the same being proved.

Art. XI.—No corporal punishment of any description shall be inflicted upon the Emigrants within the establishments; and any emigrant guilty of an offence shall be forthwith handed over to the Procureur of Chinese Affairs, and punished by that tribunal in conformity with the existing laws.

Persons infringing the above prohibition shall be liable to a fine of from $50 to $200, and to the penalties provided in the Penal Code. (7.)

Art. XII.—Licensed brokers for Chinese emigration shall continue to receive their permits from the Procureur of Chinese Affairs, the process of security established by previous charges being completed before issue of the license.

1.—The caution-money for brokers is raised to the amount of $500.

Art. XIII.—The Emigration establishment shall keep suspended at the doors, and in all the rooms within copies, in perfectly legible characters of the contracts offered by the agents, respectively, to the emigrants.

Art. XIV.—Notice shall be given to the Superintendent as soon as the Emigration Agent has collected emigrants, having made up their minds to sign the contract, in numbers sufficient to complete the despatch of the vessel in which it is intended to send them on.

Art. XV.—The Emigration Superintendent shall be established in a building of sufficient capacity to contain, during the period of four years, the entire number of emigrants to be despatched in each vessel.

Art. XVI.—Emigrants who are ready to embark, according to the notice given by the Agent, shall be taken to the Superintendent, where, in open Court, they shall be examined by the Superintendent, and the contract shall be read and explained to them, a printed copy of the contract being delivered to each individual.

Art. XVII.—Such Chinese as, on being examined, declare their readiness to emigrate and their acceptance of the terms of the contract, shall be collected in the lodgings provided for the purpose in the Superintendent's office, and during the period of four days, until the signing of the contracts, they shall not be allowed to communicate with the agents, managers, or contractors, or with the brokers.

Art. XVIII.—On the following day the emigrants shall publicly and at the hour appointed for the purpose be summoned to the office of the Superintendent, and there, in the presence of the persons mentioned in the paragraph annexed to Art. 16, the contract shall again be read over to them, and the same questions shall be put to them, all who reply in the affirmative being thereupon sent back to their lodging place.

Art. XIX.—The same proceeding shall be repeated on the third day.

Art. XX.—On the 4th day, in a judicial public manner, after a fresh reading and examination, the contract shall be signed by each emigrant in turn. The contract shall be in Chinese, and shall contain the following clauses:—

1.—It shall be lawful for the Government to fix the number of establishments allowed to each agent, in proportion to the number of emigrants he intends contracting with.

2.—The establishments must fulfil the conditions as to space and ventilation they may be fixed upon, and, in addition, must provide separate lodgings for the women and families who also intend to emigrate.

3.—The establishments shall pay such a sum by way of police-rate, as may be determined.

Art. II.—1. shall not be permitted to collect emigrants in "con-tau" * or in any non-licensed building by way of establishment.

1.—On detection of any case of infraction of this article, all persons interested in or responsible for the same shall be punishable with a fine of from $100 to $500, according to the circumstances, and in case of a repetition of the offence, with from three to six months' imprisonment, with corresponding fine.

Art. III.—Emigration Agents shall not accompany their applications for a license to open establishments with a list of the names of the persons in charge of the said establishments, and with a copy of the agreements they have made with the said persons in charge.

Art. IV.—The persons in charge of the establishments shall deposit at the Superintendent's office a caution money to the amount of $1,000, and they shall be responsible for all offences or abuses practised in the said establishments.

trials shall be in duplicate, according to the established rule, one being given to the agent and the other to the emigrant.

Art. XXI.—All Chinese who have signed the contract shall proceed forthwith to the place where they are to be at the agent's disposal, and here they shall receive the advance and clothing, and shall thereupon be at once taken on board the ship that is to convey them on their voyage.

Art. XXII.—Any Chinese who at the time of signing the contract are in the prison, shall be taken to the Superintendent's office, and there they shall be bound to reimburse the expense of their maintenance received in conformity with article XXVI.

Art. XXIII.—The long as the Superintendent shall not be established in a building capable of accommodating the total number of emigrants to be shipped by any vessel, it shall be lawful to send them on board in two batches, no longer interval than ten days being allowed to elapse between the first embarkation, conducted according to the method laid down in this Decree, and the last.

1.—In view of the near approach of the ensuing North East monsoon the above period is extended to twenty days and the number of successive shipments to three, in the case of vessels having a larger number of emigrants to take on board.

Art. XXIV.—Vessels about to carry emigrants must be in readiness to sail at the latest within forty-eight hours after the embarkation has taken place.

Art. XXV.—The medical men of the establishments must inspect the emigrants at the Superintendent's office, on the days during which the said emigrants are lodged there.

Art. XXVI.—To meet the expenses of the Superintendent and of the maintenance of the emigrants, while lodged there, each agent respectively shall pay the sum of one dollar and a half for each emigrant so lodged.

Art. XXVII.—Any emigrant who shall have been for ten days in an Emigration establishment, in the enjoyment of full liberty there allowed him, and who only withdraws after the lapse of the above interval, shall constitute himself debtor to the agent concerned in the amount of half the cost of his passage, and of his maintenance, at the rate of 100 cash per day.

Art. XXVIII.—Every branch of the Emigration Regulations shall be reported by the Superintendent to the Government, with minute particulars and evidence as to the fact. It shall be the duty of the Government to transmit the offenders, when Chinese, to the Procureur of Chinese Affairs, and in other cases to the Judicial Tribunal, in conformity with the law.

Art. XXIX.—All fines arising from the Emigration Regulations, whether imposed by the Judicial Tribunal or by the Procureur of Chinese Affairs shall be forwarded to the Treasury in the shape of a warrant, in order to their recovery.

Art. XXX.—All provisions of previous Regulations contrary to the present Decree are revoked, and this Decree shall be considered as annexed to the existing Regulations.

The authorities to whom appertain the cognizance and execution hereof, shall accordingly take note of the same and carry it into effect.

LA FEMME PASSEE.

Women of a certain position have so little wholesome occupation, and so little ambition for anything, save indeed that of a servable thing called "getting on in society," that they cannot change their way of life with advancing years; they do not attempt to find interest in things outside themselves, and independent of the more periodical pleasures which youth constitutes their whole pleasure of existence.

This is essentially the case with fashionable women, who have staked their all on appearance, and to whom good looks are a more account than noble deeds; and so, accordingly, the struggle to remain young is a frantic one with them, and as degenerating as it is frantic.

Standing far in front of a sweet and wholesome idealization is the femme passee of to-day—the reality as it is, not as it is talked of and felt and afternoon at home, ever foremost in the mad chase after pleasure, for which alone she seems to think she has been sent into the world. Dressed in the extreme of youthful fashion, her thinning hair dyed and crimped and fixed till it is more like red-brown than hair, her cheeks flushed with unwholesome generosity, as if beauty was to be measured by cubic inches, her hazel eyes blackened round the lids, to give the semblance of flupidity to the tarnished whites—perhaps the pupil dilated by belladonna, or perhaps a false and fatal brilliancy for the moment given by opium, or by can de Cologne, of which she has a store in her carriage, and which she passes from ball to ball; no kindly dream of home or of peace to console the breadth of her robe, no maturity, or to soften the dreadful shadow of her leanness—there she stands, the wretched creature who will not consent to grow old, and who will still affect to be like a fresh coquette girl when she is nothing but the femme passee—the femme passee of the bargain. There is not a fully for her even the thoughtlessness of youth in but a poor excuse for her abundant capital, and she does not plume. Wife and mother as she may be, she flirts and makes love as if an honourable issue was as open to her as if her daughter, or as if she did not know to what end flirting and making love led in all ages. If we watch the career of such a woman, we see how, by slow but very sure degrees she is obliged to lower the standard of her morality, and to take up at last with men of inferior social position, who are content to buy her patronage by their devotion. To the best men of her own class she can give nothing that they value; so she barters with snobs, who so into the transaction with their eyes open, and take the whole affair as a matter of exchange, and give her no more than what she does really desire, some very young and low born man who is weak as well as ambitious, and who thinks the fugitive regard of a middle-aged woman of high rank something to be proud of and boasted about. That she is as old as his own mother—at this moment selling tapes behind a village country, or gathering up the eggs in a country farm—tells nothing against the association with him; and the woman who began her career of flirtation with the son of a duke ends it with the son of a shopkeeper, having between these two extremes spanned all the several degrees of degradation which lie between giving and buying. She cannot help herself; for it is part of the insignia of her artificial youth to have the reputation of a love affair, or the pretence of one, if even the reality is a mere delusion. When such a woman as this is one of the matrons, and consequently one of the leaders of "society," what can we expect from the girls? What worse example could be given to the young? When we see her with her own daughters we feel instinctively that she is the most disastrous adviser they could have; and when in the company of girls or young married women not belonging to her, we doubt whether we ought not to warn their guardians against allowing such association, for all that her standing in society is undeniable, and not a door is shut against her. We may have no absolutely tangible reason to give for our distaste beyond the self-evident facts that she paints her face and dyes her hair, dresses in a very décolleté style, and affects a girlish manner that is out of harmony with her age and condition. But though we cannot formulate reasons, we have instincts; and sometimes instincts seem more clearly than reason.

What good in life does this kind of woman do? Bad as the girl of the present day is, this horrible travesty of her vices in the matron modern is even worse. Indeed, were it not for her, there would never have gone to such lengths as those to which they have gone; for older women have naturally more influence over younger ones, and if mothers were to set their faces resolutely against the follies of the day, daughters would and must give in. As it is, they go even ahead of the young, and by example on the one hand and rivalry on the other, sow the seeds of corruption broadcast where they were meant to have only a pure influence and to set a wise example. Were it not for those who still remain faithful, women who regard themselves as appointed by God the trustees for humanity and with it; but so long as the few righteous are left we have hope, and a certain amount of security for the future, when the present disgraceful madness of society shall have subsided.

FROM "NOTES AND QUERIES ON CHINA AND JAPAN" FOR AUGUST. HEREDITARY GENIUS.—I should be greatly obliged to suit of your readers as would obtain from me from the Chinese literature friends, trustworthy information as to whether the history of public competition in China, tends to show that certain families are eminently endowed with scholastic ability. I speak especially of the highest order of talent, as tested by those examinations; whether or when it has happened that the foremost place of the year, the Chung Yuen, as I am informed it is called, has been won by brothers, by father and son, by grandfathers and grandsons, by uncle and nephew, or by cousins—the three latter being reckoned either on the paternal or maternal side. I am assured that although the Chinese examinations at the present day are reputed unfair they have not invariably been subject to suspicion; on the contrary, that during the numerous centuries over which the history of these examinations extends, there have been many golden periods, when the examinations were conducted with purity and when the foremost distinctions fell to the ablest scholars. It would therefore be of considerable moment, in answering my queries, to append some remarks that would indicate the real merits of those successful candidates that were related to each other.

Again, I would ask, are any of the foremost of classical authors in China, whether poets or historians, members of the same family within the degrees I have indicated above, or are any of these men in the same close manner with men who have attained the honor of the Chung Yuen? Are there any Chinese families who at some period of their history, have included during several generations, men eminent for their literary abilities? In all these cases I should be very glad to receive information concerning the relationships on the female side, for I believe it is usual for Chinese scholars to themselves with the daughters of scholars. Lastly, are there any maxims or proverbs among the Chinese, relating to the hereditary transmission of intellectual ability or of stupidity, and if so, do you point to its transmission through either parent in preference to the other?

I give my address, as it is possible that some of your readers may be inclined to reply to my enquiries at considerable length, greater than could be expected to find a place in the columns of your excellent periodical.

AB-TSEUNG AND THE DRAGON, (vol. 2, p. 107).—It is a common expression in Canton to say that extremely violent gusts of wind during a typhoon are caused by the passage of a tin mei lung 斷尾龍, or "bob tail dragon," as the querist succinctly terms it, and it is sometimes averred that this animal is actually seen on such occasions passing through the air; generally however it is among educated people, nothing more than an expression signifying a violent gust of wind, and the story connected with it, if known at all beyond the district of Sun-ai, where it has a local veneration, is classed with such fables as that of the great serpent which was so long that when at rest a junk had to sail for several days to traverse its length, and which, on being out in two by a steamer, was several hours in discovering the fact in consequence of the immense length of the nerves which had to convey to the brain the sense of the injury inflicted.

The story however of Ab-Tseung and the dragon, as narrated to me by a native of Sun-ai, is as follows: In ancient times there was a certain studious rustic whose name was Ab-Tseung, 阿象, but whose surname was unfortunately not been handed down for the benefit of posterity; this young man having found a young snake took it home with him, and as long as he lived it was his chief delight to nurture this animal; he made a nest for it in his book-case, and after every meal he secretly conveyed food to it; it altered his bed, and was his constant companion; the boy for a long time kept the matter secret from his parents, but his mother having observed his many visits to the book-case, wished to find out the cause of the attraction, and on opening it he observed the snake filling one of the shelves, for by this time the snake had become full-grown. A few months after this Ab-Tseung died, whereupon his parents drove the snake away to the neighbouring hills; on every occasion of ceremonial mourning held by the parents, and on every anniversary of his death, the snake visited the house of his departed friend, and after gnawing several times round the house returned again to the hills; the neighbours felt a natural repugnance to these periodic visits, and remonstrated with Ab-Tseung's mother, who herself anxious to get rid of so unwelcome a visitor, forbade the snake coming to her house any more; heedless of this command the snake did return; whereupon the mother, with the intention of frightening it away, brandished a knife at it in a threatening manner, but in doing so the knife accidentally came in contact with the animal's tail and severed off several joints of it; after this the snake never returned; it retired however to the Kwai-fung-shan (龜峰山) in the district of Sun-ai, where there is a lake of about a man in extent and of unfathomable depth; indeed it is asserted by the inhabitants of the neighborhood, that its waters communicate subterraneously with one of the mouths of the great rivers of Kwangtung, the Ngai-mun (江門), and that any substance thrown into the lake will reappear in the ocean near that emb

Post-Office Notifications.

POST OFFICE NOTIFICATION.
1.—On the 1st October next, and thenceforward Money Orders will be issued at this Office and at the Agencies thereof at Shanghai and Yokohama on all the Money Order Offices in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, for amounts not exceeding £500 at the rate of Exchange Current for each Mail, and charged with Commission according to the following Scale, viz:—
For sums not exceeding £25, 12 p. c.
Above £25 and not exceeding £50, 14 p. c.
Above £50 and not exceeding £100, 16 p. c.
Above £100 and not exceeding £250, 18 p. c.
Above £250 and not exceeding £500, 20 p. c.
2.—No Money Order to include a fractional part of a Penny.
3.—Orders drawn in the United Kingdom upon Hongkong, Shanghai, and Yokohama, will be paid at the rate of Exchange at which Money Orders are being issued at the time of their presentation.
4.—Alphabetical Lists of over 3,700 Money Order Offices in the United Kingdom, showing the Counties in which they are situated, are hung up for public reference at this Office, and also at Shanghai and Yokohama.
5.—Applicants for Money Orders must furnish, in full, the surname and, at least, the initial of one Christian name, both of the Remitter and the Payee; if the Remitter or Payee be a Peer or a Bishop, his ordinary title will be sufficient; if a firm, the usual designation of such firm, such as "Baring Brothers," will suffice; but the mere term Messrs., such as "Messrs. Rivington," or the name of a Company trading under a title which does not consist of the names of the persons composing it, such as "Carroll Co.," is inadmissible.
6.—The Remitter on stating that the Order is to be paid only through a Bank, to have the option of giving or withdrawing the name of the Payee; in such case, the Order will be crossed in the same way that Cheques are commonly crossed when they are intended to be paid through a Bank.
7.—When an Order is presented through a Bank, a receipt by any person will be sufficient, provided the Order be crossed with the name of the receiving Bank, and be presented by some person known to be in the employ of such Bank.
8.—The signature of the Payee of a Money Order to be affixed to the Order in the place provided for the purpose. If the Payee be unable to write he must sign the receipt by making his mark in the presence of a Witness, who must sign his name, with his address in the presence of the Officer who pays the Order.
9.—Should the Payee of a Money Order desire to receive payment in the Country in which the Order was issued, at some other Office than that in which the Order was originally drawn, the transfer will be granted, provided the Order be indorsed to the Postmaster of the Office in which it was drawn. In such case a new Order will be issued, the Commission chargeable upon which will be deducted from the amount of the new Order.
10.—In the event of a Money Order mislaid or being lost, a duplicate will be granted on a written application from the Payee, (containing the necessary particulars, and accompanied by an additional Commission) to the Office where the Original Order was payable.
11.—On the receipt of a similar application, orders will be given to stop payment of a Money Order, or to renew a lapsed Order. The additional Commission in the last case will be deducted from the amount of the new Order. Lapsed Orders must be presented with the application for a new Order.
12.—But when it is desired that any error in the name of the Remitter or Payee should be corrected, or that the amount of a Money Order should be repaid to the Remitter, or that a Lapsed Order should be renewed for payment in the Country in which the Order was originally drawn, application must be made to the Chief Money Order Office of such Country. This application must be accompanied by an additional Commission, unless it have reference to a Lapsed Order, in which case the Commission will be deducted from the amount of the new Order.
13.—Repayment whether of an original, or renewed, or a duplicate Order, will not be made to the remitter until it has been ascertained that the advice has been cancelled at the Office on which the Order was originally drawn.
14.—Payment of an Order must be obtained before the end of the Sixth Calendar Month after that in which it was drawn; for instance, if drawn in January, payment must be obtained before the end of July, otherwise the Order will become lapsed, and a new Order (for which a second Commission, to be deducted from the amount of the Order, will be charged) will become necessary.
15.—If an Order is not paid before the end of the Twelfth Calendar Month after that in which it was drawn, for instance, if drawn in January, and not paid before the end of the following January—all claim to the Money will be forfeited, unless, under peculiar circumstances, the Post Office of the Country in which the Order was drawn think proper to allow it.
16.—After once paying a Money Order by whomsoever presented, the paying Office will not be liable to any further claim. If a wrong payment, however, be made owing to negligence on the part of any Officer of the Post Office, the Postmaster General of the Country or Colony in which the negligence occurs will, if he see fit, require the Officer in fault to make good the loss.
17.—No Money Order will be paid unless the advice has been previously received.
18.—Additional Rules for greater security against fraud, and for the better working of the system generally will be made as occasion may require.
19.—Should it appear that Money Orders are used by mercantile men, or others, either in the United Kingdom or at Hongkong, Shanghai or Yokohama, for the transmission of large sums of money, the British or Colonial Post Office, as the case may be, will consider the propriety of increasing the Commission, and will exercise the power of wholly suspending for a time the issue of Money Orders.

HIS MEDICINE is universally admitted to be the most efficacious remedy known to the world. No preparation is so suitable to the climates of India and China as this fine and invigorating medicine. It is particularly adapted to the constitution of European ladies, as it is never failing in its effects in all diseases peculiar to females, while those who are attenuated by the debilitating effects of the above climates will find in this wonderful remedy a kind of balsam whereby they may insure a restoration to robust health.
HOLLAND'S OINTMENT.
The science of Medicine has never before produced any remedy that can be compared to this wonderful Ointment, as it cures after all other means have failed, all wounds, sores, ulcers, and also the most inveterate skin diseases peculiar to the climates of India and China. It is the true friend of the Soldier and Civilian, as certain old sores can be removed by it that cannot be conquered by any other treatment.

The author in his Preface says:—"The tables in Chap. VII., for estimating prices, measurement of goods, exchanges, &c. have been selected from those constantly in use among the foreign merchants in China. Those for calculating the prices of tea in dollars or pence have been copied from the more extended tables, by the kind permission of the author, P. Loureiro, Esq. The last section of the same chapter, on 'Movements in Bullion,' has been prepared and furnished for the Guide by Patrick B. Harper, Esq., of the Commercial Bank of India at Hongkong, who has had much experience in the exchanges and movements of the precious metals in Eastern Asia. 'The Appendix of Sailing Directions has been reprinted from the 'China Pilot.' With short interruptions, the coasts from Singapore to Hakodadi are all described in detail, and for the Chinese coasts, the Directions have been improved by the insertion of the Chinese characters for the names of all places that could be ascertained."
